Time to move out?

When it's time to move out, there are some things that are important to remember before leaving your apartment. We know that it can be difficult to remember everything between exam study and gasquer - therefore we have collected the most important information and a lot of tips below.

Scroll down to get rid of the headache and follow our lists to make it easiest for you.

Start by checking that you have ticked all the points in the list below before the inspection and before handing over your apartment to the next tenant.

Keep in mind that:

- Book an inspection on time (inspection routines can be found in the accommodation app)
- Make sure you have all the keys and return them in connection with the inspection.
(If you live in Luleå, the keys are returned to Studentbostadsservice)
- If you have an associated storage room – don't forget to empty it!
- Leave behind any equipment that was there when you moved into the apartment and send back or take with you what you ordered extra (for example, router).

Husmorstips:

You don't have to acquire the newest or most expensive cleaning items to get it shiny clean!

Here are some tips where you can actually use what you have at home. The inspiration comes from @ekotipset on Instagram. Feel free to check out her profile for more tips!

- Mix into a miracle spray that removes even the toughest stains of 2 parts of vinegar liquor (12%), 3 parts of water and 5 drops of dishwashing liquid. Pour the spray into an old spray bottle and you are good to go!
- Make the toilet fresh by emptying the toilet of water, put in toilet paper and drench in vinegar – let rest for approx. 30 min. Then just scrub a little and flush as usual. (You can advantageously test the same thing in the sink but make sure that the paper does not go down the pipes).
- Clean surfaces with burnt food and dirt using sugar cubes. Soak the surface and scrub with piece sugar until it dissolves. This works on, among other things, oven plates, stovetop, etc.

Sincerely,
